ORGANIZATION.

THERE will in future be three separate departments of instruction: the Primary, the Academic, and the Collegiate.

There are two distinct courses of study, the Regular and the Scientific.

TERMS OF ADMISSION.

All candidates for admission are required to furnish evidence of good moral character, and, if from other colleges, certificates of regular dismissal.

Candidates for admission into the Junior Academic Class are required to sustain a thorough examination in Orthography, Reading, Writing, Modern Geography, United States' History, and the elements of English Grammar and Arithmetic.

Candidates for admission into the First Class of the scientific course are likewise examined in Orthography, Reading, Writing and the elements of Arithmetic.

All candidates for advanced standing, whether from other colleges or not, in addition to the preparatory studies, are examined on those previously pursued by the classes which they propose to enter.

No one can be admitted into the Freshman Class till he has completed his fourteenth year, nor to an advanced standing, without a proportional advance of age.

MATRICULATION.

The students are not considered regular members of the college till they have subscribed an engagement to obey faithfully all the college laws and regulations.

A receipt from the treasurer is, in all cases, a prerequisite to matriculation. But young men having the Christian ministry in view, if recommended by their respective churches and approved by the Faculty, are admitted free of tuition.

COURSE OF STUDY.

PRIMARY DEPARTMENT.

The Primary Department is in a room separate from the College building, and is under the immediate charge of the tutor. The course of study, beginning with the first rudiments of education, embraces all that is required for admission into the

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT.

This Department is under the immediate charge of the Principal, who devotes his entire time to the instruction of its two regular classes. The course of instruction occupies a period of two years.

The following is a list of the studies pursued :

JUNIOR CLASS.

FOURTH CLASS.

This class pursues the same studies as the regular Senior Class, with the exception of the Critical Reading of the Greek New Testament.

Exercises in Declamation and Composition.

The Senior Class are required to prepare original Essays on subjects related to their studies, and to pronounce original orations before the Faculty and Students at stated intervals. The other classes have regular exercises in Declamation and in English Composition.

Examinations.

Public examinations of the classes are held at the close of each term, on the studies of the term. A student absenting himself from an examination is liable to suspension.

Terms and Vacations.

The collegiate year is divided into two terms of twenty-one weeks each. The first commences on the first Monday in September, and ends with the last week in January. The second commences immediately on the close of the first, and ends on the day before Public Commencement, which occurs on the last Thursday in June.

First vacation from December 25th to January 1st.

Second vacation from commencement till the first Monday in September.

It is insisted on, as a matter of the greatest importance, that students be present at the commencement of each term. The absence of a student during term time, occasions a much greater loss than is commonly supposed by parents or guardians. No student is allowed to absent himself during term time, without special permission.

Literary Societies.

There are two Literary Societies connected with the College: the Philomathic and the Excelsior.

There is also a Religious Society, called "The Baptist Evangelical Society."

These are valuable auxiliaries in promoting the advancement of the students, in the more practical and popular bearings of their education.

Libraries, Apparatus and Cabinet.

The College Library, which is receiving constant additions by purchase and donation, already numbers upwards of two thousand volumes, and is accessible to all the students.

Besides this, the libraries belonging to the Literary Societies number several hundred volumes.

The Departments of Natural Philosophy and Chemistry are supplied with a fine selection of choice apparatus.

The Cabinet of Mineralogical and Geological specimens comprises a very valuable collection.

Dismission.

Any student, who is not under censure, may obtain an honorable dismissal, at the request of his parents or guardian. But, if a student offending against one of the rules, leaves college without answering for his conduct, it is the duty of the Faculty to expel him, and communicate to his parents or guardian the circumstances of his departure.

Whenever it becomes manifest that a student needs other influences than those which the discipline of the College presents, to incite him to duty and industry, the Faculty will immediately and, if possible, without disgrace, return him to his friends.

Public Worship.

Prayers are attended in the forum every morning, with reading of the Scriptures, when one of the Faculty officiates, and all the students are required to be present.

All the students are required to attend public worship on the Lord's day, at such church as they may select.

Expenses.

Tuition, including contingent fee, in the Primary Department, $12.00 per term.

In the other departments, $16.00 per term.

Board may be obtained in the city at prices varying from $2.50 to $3.00 per week.

In regard to other items of expense, no general estimate can be made. It is earnestly requested of parents and guardians not to furnish students with unnecessary funds. Too free indulgence in the use of money subjects the student to many temptations, while it does not contribute either to his respectability or his happiness. It is recommended that parents at a distance deposit funds with the President, who will cheerfully give particular attention to the pecuniary concerns of the student, settle his bills, transmit an account of his expenditures, &c.

Degrees.

The Degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred on those students who have completed the regular course of study, and have been approved on examination at the end of the course, as candidates for the same.

The Degree of Bachelor of Philosophy is conferred on graduates in the scientific course, on the same conditions.

The Degree of Master of Arts may be conferred on a Bachelor of Arts of three years' or longer standing, provided in the meantime, he has sustained a good moral character.

Abstract of Laws.

Every student shall be subject to the laws and government of the College; and show, in speech and behavior, all proper tokens of respect and obedience to the Faculty.

No student shall attend an exhibition of an immoral tendency, or frequent any bar-room or tippling house, or any place where intoxicating liquors are kept or sold; or play at games of chance, or, in any way, wager money or other things.

No student shall use opprobrious or defamatory language towards another; or offer violence to any student or other person; or be guilty of fighting, quarreling, or profanity, or engage in any frolic of a noisy, disorderly, or immoral character.

No student shall send or accept a challenge, or, in any way aid or abet a duel, or upbraid another for declining to fight; nor shall any student have in his possession, or about his person, while in or about the College, arms or weapons of any kind.

No student shall cut, mark, or otherwise injure or deface the buildings, furniture or appurtenances of the College; or throw stones or other missiles in its vicinity. Damage done to any College property shall be repaired at the expense of the offender, if he be discovered.

No student shall absent himself from his boarding house after dark, without permission from some member of the Faculty, except to attend public worship, or some regular College exercise. All students must obtain the approbation of the faculty, in their choice of a boarding house, before they engage it, and no one shall be permitted to change it, without permission obtained either from his parents or guardian, or from the President.

No student shall have less than three regular studies; nor shall any student leave or join any class without permission from the President.

If any student shall be found at any time unprepared to continue with the class of which he is a member, without detriment to himself and his classmates, he shall be required to join a lower class and review his studies.

Students will be informed in regard to the other laws of the College at the proper time. They may be all summed up in one—Do what is right. Every departure from moral rectitude, good order or gentlemanly propriety will be strictly noticed, and visited with such punishment as the nature of the case may require.

REGULATIONS.

An exact daily record is kept of the attendance, conduct and recitations of each student, as well as of the sufficiency and insufficiency of the excuses rendered for delinquency. Summaries of these records are made for every term and year. Being kept in a permanent form, they will determine the standing of each student at any period of his connection with the college, and, in the end, will exhibit a complete history of his College course for subsequent reference.

Scholarship.—The merit of each recitation will be indicated by a numeral mark in the scale of 8; for a perfect recitation, the credit given will be 8; for a less creditable one, a smaller number; for a failure, 1; and for unexcused absence, 0.

Demerit Marks.—Demerit marks will be charged as follows: For tardiness at any recitation or exercise, one mark; for absence from prayers, one mark; for absence from a recitation, a lecture, reading of compositions, or from any exercise in elocution, two marks; for absence from public worship on the Lord's day, eight marks; for whispering, reading, or any impropriety of attitude or conduct deserving notice, during forum exercises or any literary exercise, one mark; or, if the impropriety be gross or repeated, the mark may be doubled or trebled.

One instance of egressing shall receive the same number of marks as an absence from the same exercise.

Violations of the College Laws will be marked according to the magnitude of the offence.

Excuses.—All excuses for absence during the week shall be rendered by 12 o'clock Friday, provided the absentee be able to be present on that day.

Excuses shall not be heard or accepted on the following grounds; (though leave of absence may be granted in some of these cases, if asked beforehand,) viz—not hearing the bell; being out late on the preceding night; difficulty of the exercise, and reluctance to attend and fail; writing letters or preparing college or society exercises; bad state of roads or weather; walking or riding abroad, and being unable to return in time; mislaying books or articles of apparel; interruption by students or persons from abroad—indisposition, when the student is not prevented by illness from walking abroad.

If these excuses are ever admitted, it must be from some peculiarity of the circumstances of the case; and, if the excuse of indisposition shall be frequently given, such case shall be reported to the Faculty.

For absence or failure, when the necessity can be foreseen, permission must be sought from the President, or, in his absence, from some member of the Faculty; otherwise, the excuse can rarely be accepted. Students, who are not present in the Forum on Monday morning, are required before the Friday following to give an account of their attendance or non-attendance at church on the preceding Lord's day; otherwise, it will be marked as a failure.

Course of Discipline.—When the demerit marks of any student shall amount to 16, his parent or guardian shall be notified of the fact; when they rise to 24, he shall be privately reprimanded; when they rise to 40, the parent or guardian shall receive a second notification; when they rise to 48, he shall be publicly reprimanded; when they rise to 64, his parent or guardian shall be notified a third time; and when they rise to 72, he shall be liable to suspension.

At the beginning of the second term in each collegiate year, the demerit marks of such students as have been placed on a course of discipline, after 24 have been deducted, shall be charged on the record of the new term; but no such charge shall be made at the commencement of the year.

Omitted Exercises.—Exercises in recitations, omitted through absence or failure, unless afterwards made up, shall lower the standing of the student, except in special cases, where the Faculty may order the contrary.

The omitted exercises may be made up, only when the absence or failure is excused.

A student, wishing to make up omitted exercises, must present himself for that purpose, within two weeks after his return to college duties. But, in cases of necessity, the time for doing so may be extended to the second week before examination.

Any student, who has been absent from an examination appointed by the Faculty, may be admitted into his respective classes, but shall be required to pass an examination before the Faculty, within two weeks after the commencement of the next term.

Leave of absence from town.—No student shall absent himself from town without written permission from the President. When a student obtains leave of absence for a week or more, notice of the fact and of the reason must be given immediately to his parent or guardian.

Any student having leave of absence, is required, unless specially excused, to attend college exercises up to the time of his departure, and again immediately on his return, even if the time allowed him should not have expired.

Permitted absence in town.—Permission to be absent from the college exercises, for the purpose of attending friends, shall be given only when they are from abroad and are to leave town so speedily, as to make such attendance indispensable.

Permission to be absent for the purpose of preparing college or society exercises, shall be given only in extreme cases, and from only six college exercises in a term, to the same individual.

LIBRARY REGULATIONS.

The Library, in term time, shall be opened for the delivery of books, every Tuesday and Thursday morning, before the ringing of the first bell.

Encyclopedias and unbound periodicals may be retained from the Library one week only; all other books, two weeks, unless recalled. Books must be charged in all cases before they are taken from the Library.

Two volumes only may stand charged to the same name, at the same time; except in those cases where a student has obtained from the President written permission to draw more.

Books may be renewed once only before returning to the shelves; and, for this purpose, must be brought to the Library.

When a student applies for a book, then lent out, he may leave his name and the title of the book, and the date of the application, with the Librarian; and, when the book shall be returned, such applicant shall be entitled to precedence, provided he apply for it at the time of its being returned.

No student shall lend to another a book borrowed from the Library; nor suffer it to be removed from his personal custody; nor carry it out of town, without special permission.

No student is allowed to take down any book from the shelves without special leave from the Librarian.

Each student, while in the Library room, shall have his head uncovered, and conduct himself in an orderly and respectful manner. If he transgresses this rule, his name may be stricken from the list of those who have access to the Library.

All books belonging to the Library shall be returned two weeks before vacation; and no student shall be allowed to take books from the Library during vacation without written permission from the President.

Penalties.

Students, retaining books from the Library for a longer time than above specified, shall be fined ten cents per week for every volume so retained.

When the books have been recalled by notice, the above fine shall be increased to fifty cents per volume.

The fine for taking books from the Library uncharged shall be twenty-five cents per volume.

If any student damage a book belonging to the Library, he shall be fined at the discretion of the Librarian; and if he lose a book, he shall replace it by a new one within one month, or pay to the Librarian double the amount of the price of the book; or, if belonging to a set, of the set to which it belongs;—subject however to the opinion of the Faculty.

Students neglecting or refusing to pay their fines shall not be permitted to draw books until such fines have been paid.

Remarks.

All the books within the course may be obtained in the city on very reasonable terms.

Special attention will be given to the cultivation of the morals as well as the improvement of the intellect. The whole system of government is firm yet parental, ever keeping in view the present and future good of the student.

WILLIAM JEWELL COLLEGE.

The building is a spacious edifice, situated in Liberty, Clay county, Mo., four miles north from Baxter's landing on the Missouri river.

The whole building will soon be finished, and for spaciousness, elegance, and beauty of situation, will be unrivalled in the west.

The endowment fund is still increasing, and, with its Libraries, Apparatus Cabinets, and other advantages, this College affords facilities for mental improvement rarely to be met with.

Society in Liberty, in point of intelligence and morality, is unsurpassed.

Young men, desirous of preparing for the Christian ministry, can receive thorough training here.

The course of instruction is thorough and extensive; and none will be admitted to the literary honors of the institution of whose scholarship there will be any reason to be ashamed.

Let it be remembered that the next session will commence on the first Monday in September, and it is highly important that the students be present that on day.
